A Steward is an employee who represents and defends the interests of his or her fellow employees. The position is a voluntary position and is the link of information between the employee and the Union Leadership.

Duties of a steward generally include informing the workers of their rights under the Collective Bargaining Agreement (CBA), enforcing the provisions of the CBA, and represents and defends the employees in investigatory interviews. The term for this position is 1 year and will work directly with the Chief Stewards and Grievance Chair.

If more than two people sign up for the position there will be an election. The ONLY exception would be if the members mutually agree that two will take positions and the other(s) will serve as the alternate(s).
